Horse Guards, June 4, 1799.

HIS Royal Highness the Commander in Chief has His Majesty's particular Commands to communicate to the several Corps of Volunteers assembled this Morning in Hyde-Park, the great Satisfaction with which His Majesty witnessed their Regularity and Military Appearance, and the striking Manifestation of their cordial and affectionate Attachment to His Majesty. It is peculiarly pleasing to His Majesty to observe the Effects of the unwearied Diligence and Attention of the Officers, and of the Zeal and Alacrity of the Volunteers composing this truly respectable Force, which entitle them to the strongest Expressions of His Majesty's Approbation, and which gratify the just Sentiments of National Pride, in the same Proportion in which they add to the public Security.

His Majesty cannot express the Satisfaction He has received on this Occasion, without the pleasing Recollection of the Principles of Attachment to the Constitution under which these Corps have been formed, and without considering their Appearance and Conduct on this Day, as a Proof of their firm Determination to support His Majesty in transmitting it with its Blessings unimpaired to their Posterity.

His Royal Highness has peculiar Pleasure in making known His Majesty's gracious Sentiments on an Occasion so acceptable to His Feelings, and he requests the respective Commanding Officers to take the earliest Opportunity of communicating them to the several Corps seen by His Majesty this Morning.

(Signed) FREDERICK, F. M.
Commander in Chief.

Extract of a Letter from Sir Morton Eden to Lord Grenville, dated May 18, 1799.

MY LORD,

I Have the Honor of enclosing an Extraordinary Gazette published on Thursday last, containing Intelligence from the Army of Italy.

Vienna, May 16, 1799.

FIELD-MARSHAL-LIEUTENANT KAIM, charged by Field-Marshal Suwarrow with the Siege of Pizzighetone, has sent his First Lieutenant Runcle with the Particulars of the Capture of that Place on the 10th.

General Baron Sekendorff and Count Hohenzollern had previously surrounded the Fortress with a small Body of Troops, and with the Assistance of the Inhabitants of the Environs had begun to construct Batteries.

On the 5th, Field-Marshal-Lieutenant Kaim received Orders to attack the Place with his Division, and to push forward the Siege vigorously. In the Night of the 5th, and during the whole Day of the 6th, they worked with such Dispatch to construct Batteries, that in the Night of the 6th some Cannon were mounted.

On the 7th, before Day-break, they began to attack the Fortress, and to threw in some Howitzers, the Fourth of which set fire to a considerable Magazine of Hay, Straw, and Wood, which continued burning all the Day.

Two Hours afterwards Field-Marshal-Lieutenant Kaim summoned the Fortress to surrender. The Governor replied, that he had Orders from his Government to defend himself, and that he could not enter into Negotiation. The Fire was therefore continued by our brave Cannonneers with such Success, that in the Evening a small Powder Magazine blew up, several Batteries dismounted, and even the Embrasures demolished. In the Night of the 7th, and in the Morning till Nine o'Clock we continued our Works in such a Manner that our Batteries were not farther than Muſket-ſhot from the Fortreſs.

The Fire in the Town, the Apprehenſion that a Quantity of Powder in the Caſemates might catch Fire, and the Proximity of our Batteries connected by Trenches, induced the Enemy's Commandant to ſent Propoſals of Negotiation in Writing to Field-Marſhal-Lieutenant Kaim by one of his Artillery Officers.

The Field-Marſhal-Lieutenant ſent the Quarter-Maſter-General's Firſt Lieutenant into the Fortreſs with the following Capitulation; adding, that no Change whatever could be made in it. The Enemy's Commandant, after holding a Council of War, required Liberty to return with his Garriſon to France, and perſiſted in this Point till Ten at Night. But Field-Marſhal-Lieutenant Kaim having then informed him that he could wait no longer, the Capitulation was agreed upon, and was ratified and exchanged on the Morning of the 10th. The Garriſon, although conſiſting of Six Hundred Men and Thirty Officers, of whom Two were on the Staff, was commanded by a Captain.

Ninety-five Pieces of Cannon, Ammunition ſufficient for a Siege of Six Months, Proviſions to ſupply a Garriſon of Five Thouſand Men for Fourteen Months, and a great Quantity of Powder, were found in the Place.

This Siege coſt us only One Man killed and Two wounded.

ARTICLES of CAPITULATION concluded between Field-Marſhal-Lieutenant Kaim and Captain Francis Jaquey, Commandant of the Fortreſs of Pizzighetone.

Art. I. The Garriſon ſhall evacuate the Fortreſs, and ſhall leave the Cannon, Ammunition, and every Thing that belongs to the Civil and Military Adminiſtration.

Art. II. The Garriſon ſhall march out on the 11th of May with all the Honours of War, ſhall lay down their Arms on the Glacis, and be made Priſoners of War. The French Officers and their Allies ſhall keep their Arms, Baggage, Horſes, and Military Ornaments. Every Facility of Tranſport ſhall be furniſhed them, and a proper Eſcort through the Countries occupied by the Imperial and Royal Troops.

Art. III. The Garriſon ſhall retain their Effects and Knapſacks. Hoſtages ſhall be mutually given. Thoſe of the French ſhall remain in the Fortreſs until every Thing ſhall have been faithfully delivered up to the Imperial Troops.

Art. IV. Immediately on the Signature of the Capitulation the Gate of Cremona ſhall be delivered up to the Imperial and Royal Troops, and the Gate oppoſite to Geza ſhall be occupied by General Sekendorff, who commands at Geza.

Art. V. The Inhabitants ſhall not be moleſted for any Sentiments they may have manifeſted during the Stay of the French.

Art. VI. The Sick and Wounded ſhall be attended by a French Surgeon, and ſhall remain at the Hoſpital under the Protection of Auſtrian Probity.—On their Recovery they ſhall be ſent under Eſcort to France.

Art. VII. The French Commiſſaries of War, and thoſe employed by the Ciſalpine Governments, ſhall remain in the Place until all the Magazine, ſhall have been delivered over to the Perſons named by Field-Marſhal-Lieutenant Kaim.

All Perſons, not having borne Arms, ſhall be ſet at Liberty and conducted to the French Out-Poſts.

Concluded and ſigned at Regano, the 9th of May, 1799.

KAIM, Field-Marſhal-Lieutenant.
JAQUEY, Captain and Commandant.

Field-Marſhal-Lieutenant Kaim had Orders to follow the Army immediately after the Surrender of Pizzighetone. On the 11th he marched towards Toghera, where our Army was poſted when the Courier departed, and from whence General Gotteſcheim, who commanded the Advanced Guard, ſent out Patroles to the Environs of Turin.

The Ruſſian Troops, with Karaczay's Regiment of Dragoons under the Orders of General Döllen, have entered Tortona. The Enemy, after having been driven from the Town by the Ruſſians, threw themſelves into the Caſtle, which is at ſome Diſtance; but it is blockaded, as well as that of Milan.

The General of Artillery Kray writes on the 9th Inſtant, that the Garriſon of Mantua, reported to be Twelve Thouſand ſtrong, having learnt that the greater Part of the Force that blockaded it had marched towards Peſchiera, made a general Sortie; but that on the 7th he had recalled Eight Battalions in conſequence of the complete Evacuation of that Fortreſs. This Corps was advantageouſly employed at Roverbella under General Elſnitz, who defeated the Enemy on every Side with conſiderable Loſs, and took Priſoners a Captain, Aide-de-Camp to General Monet, a Lieutenant, and Forty Men.

General Kray of the Artillery, not being able to give an exact Statement of his Loſs on account of the Extent of his Poſts, has deferred making any Return for the preſent.

Our Army diſtinguiſhed itſelf very much in reſiſting this Sally, particularly in the Commencement, when the Enemy, infinitely ſuperior in Strength, had conſiderably advanced, and diſcharged a briſk Fire of Artillery.

A Secretary of General Monet and a Trumpeter were taken Priſoners. The Field-Marſhal-Lieutenant Kray ſent them both to Mantua, after delivering to them a Copy of the Capitulation of Peſchiera. At the ſame Time he ſignified to the Garriſon, that the Cannonade, which they had conceived to be a Signal from the French Army, and which had induced them to make this Sally, was in Reality the Bombardment of Pizzighetone, of which the Garriſon might convince themſelves by ſending One of their Officers to the very Spot.

At Peſchiera, beſides what has been already mentioned, Eighteen Pontoons of Tin and ſeveral Waggons have been found.

According to a Report from the Archduke Charles, the Enemy had attacked on the 9th Current the Advanced Poſts of General Merveli, between Biberach and Gegenbach, and had taken ſome Hoſtages from the latter Place on his Retreat.

On the following Day the Enemy renewed his Attack with more Energy, and made our Front Poſts rather give Way, but retired to his former Poſition.

All the Reſt of the Enemy's Line remained perfectly quiet.

Extract of a Letter from Sir Morton Eden to Lord Grenville, dated Vienna, Saturday, May 18, 1799.

A Courier arrived this Morning from Marſhal Suwarrow with Accounts of the further Progreſs of the Army under his Command. The Head-Quarters were, on the 13th Inſtant, at Tortona, the Citadel of which had only an inconſiderable Garriſon.

General Moreau had collected all the French Troops which had been ſcattered through Piedmont, and was encamped near to Alexandria, with about Seventeen Thouſand Men. The Imperial Troops occupied Vercelli on the Seſſia, Arona on the Southern Extremity of the Lago Maggiore, and Jurea on the Dora Baltea. The Advanced Poſts were at Chivaſſo, near Turin; and the Inhabitants of that Part of the Country had taken Arms for the Purpoſe of aiding the Auſtrians. The Canton of Uri had riſen, and driven out the French; the Valais were alſo in Arms, and General Kaim had been ſent with a conſiderable Detachment to ſupport them, and furniſh them with Arms, Ammunition, &c.

The greateſt Part of the Valteline was likewiſe in the Poſſeſſion of the Auſtrians.

Admiralty-Office, June 3, 1799.

BY Advices which have been received it appears that the Childers Brig and Succeſs Frigate had joined the Britiſh Squadron under the Orders of Vice-Admiral Lord Keith, in the Bay of Cadiz, on Friday the 3d of May, with Information of the ſailing of the French Fleet from Breſt, and the Spaniſh Squadron from Ferrol; that the Morning of the following Day the Breſt Fleet, conſiſting of Thirty-three Ships of War, had appeared off Cadiz, and that his Lordſhip, wiſhing rather to meet the Enemy under Sail than receive him at Anchor with the Spaniſh Fleet of Twenty-two Ships of the Line in View, at Anchor to Leeward, and at no greater Diſtance than Seven or Eight Miles, had got under Sail with his Squadron conſiſting of Fifteen Sail of the Line to give Battle to the Enemy, and ſtood off and on from the Port of Cadiz; that during the Courſe of that Day the French Fleet, though Ships ſent to reconnoitre had nearly approached the Britiſh Squadron, had made no Attempt to attack it, or to form a Junction with the Spaniſh Fleet; and that on the Morning of the 5th the Wind, which had blown freſh all the Afternoon of the preceding Day, with cloudy Weather, increaſing to a perfect Storm, and blowing right on the Shore, he had loſt Sight of the Enemy, excepting Four Ships of the Line which had ſeparated, and which he had endeavoured ineffectually to cut off.

That his Lordſhip had continued on his Station until the 9th, when he proceeded with his Squadron off Cape Spartel, and having Reaſon to believe that the Enemy had paſſed the Straits, proceeded on the 10th into Gibraltar Bay, where he is ſuppoſed to have anchored on the ſame Day.

It alſo appears by Advices from Gibraltar of the 9th of May, that the Childers Brig had joined Lord St. Vincent on the 4th; that his Lordſhip had in conſequence taken the neceſſary Means for appriſing the Commander of His Majeſty's Ships of the Enemy's Approach, and had made his Arrangements with a View to collecting his Force and purſuing the Enemy, which had paſſed the Straits and proceeded up the Mediterranean in the Afternoon of the 5th.

An Account has alſo been received, that the Squadron under Rear-Admiral Whitſhed, conſiſting of Five Ships of the Line, was off the Tagus on the 16th, and from the State of the Winds would be likely to reach the Bay of Gibraltar on the 18th.

St. James's, June 4, 1799.

This Day being obſerved at Court as the Anniverſary of the King's Birth-Day, there was a very numerous and ſplendid Appearance of the Nobility, Foreign Miniſters, and other Perſons of Diſtinction, to compliment His Majeſty on the Occaſion. The Guns in the Park and at the Tower were fired at One o'Clock; and in the Evening there will be a Ball at Court, and Illuminations and other Public Demonſtrations of Joy throughout London and Weſtminſter.
